THE CODE OF CRIMINAL PROCEDURE (CrPC), 1898

Section 154. Information in cognizable cases (First Information Report - FIR).

Every information relating to the commission of a cognizable offence, if given orally to an officer in charge of a police station, shall be reduced to writing by him or under his direction, and be read over to the informant; and every such information, whether given in writing or reduced to writing as aforesaid, shall be signed by the person giving it, and the substance thereof shall be entered in a book to be kept by such officer in such form as the Provincial Government may prescribe in this behalf. This is commonly known as FIR.

Section 54. When police may arrest without warrant.

Any police officer may, without an order from a Magistrate and without a warrant, arrest any person: First, who has been concerned in any cognizable offence, or against whom a reasonable complaint has been made, or credible information has been received, or a reasonable suspicion exists of his having been so concerned. Also includes persons having housebreaking implements, or proclaimed offenders.

Section 496. In what cases bail to be taken.

When any person other than a person accused of a non-bailable offence is arrested or detained without warrant by an officer in charge of a police station, or appears or is brought before a Court, and is prepared at any time while in the custody of such officer or at any stage of the proceedings before such Court to give bail, such person shall be released on bail (Bailable Offences).

Section 497. When bail may be taken in case of non-bailable offence.

When any person accused of any non-bailable offence is arrested or detained without warrant by an officer in charge of a police station, or appears or is brought before a Court, he may be released on bail, but he shall not be so released if there appear reasonable grounds for believing that he has been guilty of an offence punishable with death or imprisonment for life or imprisonment for ten years.
